STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The State Board of Education continued its meeting in the office of the superintendent yesterday. Dr. Jordan was not able to be present at all at the meeting. The board continued the discussion of examination questions and the granting of license to applicants. Life license was given to George W. Wilson, of Greenfield, Hancock county; professional licenses to D. A. Rothruck, N. W. Salmon, Frances Saxton, T. J. Meyer and J. S. Sherrick. An examination of teachers for primary and intermediate grades will be held in all the counties of the State during June, July and August, by order of the board. For some time application by boards officers in different portions of the State have been made ask-ing the privilege of holding special exam-ination of teachers for special studies, such as German, French and music, instead of the regular school examination, as required by law. A committee of the Board of Education, after conexamination of the subject they deem it inexpedient at this time for this board to take any action in the case, further than to suggest to boards of school trustees, who desire to employ such teachers, that if the teachers be unable to take the general examination required by the school law, such teacher may be employed and paid from the special fund under the control of the board so employing." After transacting further routine business the board adjourned.

THE SCHOOL OF HOMEOPATHY

A Successful Operation for Titis Reported to the Institute Yesterday.

The Next Legislature Will Be Asked to Place One of the New Insane Asylums in Control of Homeopathists.

The meeting of the Institute of Homeopathy was continued at Plymouth Church yesterday, sessions being held in the morning and afternoon. The first paper read was one by Dr. Sawyer on "Cases from Practice." This was discussed at length by Drs. Runnels, Haynes and Boyd. One of the ablest papers of the convention then followed -that of Dr. Runnels-a paper that called forth long and animated discussion, Drs. Huron, Boyd, Grosvenor, Haynes, George, Davis, Haggart, Sawyer, Jones and Thompson participating in it. Dr. George, of Franklin, reported to the society an important case of titis with mastoid complications—a disease similar to the one from which ex-Senator Conkling died. In the case an operation was immediately performed to let out the pus, as in Conkling's case, and the patient recovered. This proved to be an interesting report to the institute and occupied some time is its discussion. Dr. Grosvenor followed with a paper on "Cataract" which also caused a

At the afternoon session a paper was read on sanitary science by Dr. G. W. Bowen. Dr. Bowen's paper spoke of seven cases of winter cholera which had been successfully treated by homeopathic remedies.

Dr. Boyd read a paper on "Some Thoughts Suggested by a Study of Toxicology," the line of his argument being to show that nothing existed in this world in vain—a substantiation of Pope's verse, "Whatever is, is right." He said that the peach, the pear and the apricot were the outgrowth of the poison almond; that in the process of years nature had made the most delicious and natritions fruit and natritious fruit out of what was at first a rank and deadly poison. Commerce in its earliest stage was carried on by pirates; now it is the means by which civilization is spread and missionaries transported to distant parts of the world to civilize and humanize mankind. Poison was first discovered by the chemist and alnemist for the purpose of destroying human life. There were men who made that a profeslife. There were men who made that a profession—as the Borgia family. Now they prove to be potent energies to preserve human life. As an instance of this, Dr. Boyd referred to the fact that the poison of the ractiesnake was now known to be a valued remedy against yellow fever—the two poisons neutralizing each other in the human system. Dr. Boyd's paper was well received by the institute.

During the day telegrams were received from Drs. Wm. H. Waters, of Terre Haute, and L. Taylor, of Crawfordsville, regretting their inability to be present. The following officers were elected:

President—G. W. Bowen, of Ft. Wayne.
First Vice-president—J. T. Boyd, of Indianapolis.
Second Vice-president—E. P. Jones, of Marion.
Secretary—E. B. Grosvenor, of Richmond.
Treasurer—J. S. Martin, of Muncie.
Committee on Arrangements—J. A. Compton, F.
O. Clemmer, Sollis Runnels.

The homeopathic doctors are going to ask the next Legislature to allow them to have charge of one of the insane assylumit, probably one of the new ones. A resolution was yesterday passed in the institute to that effect, and a committee appointed to see to it. Dr. Boyd is its chairman. He said to a Journal reporter concerning the matter that the homespathists demand the privilege first on the ground of justice, and second because experience has shown that in the treatment of mental diseases homeopathic remedies have been more successful than any other; third, because in the State they (the homeopathists) have a large and influential clientage who are tax-payers and have a right to be represented in the institutions. The institute does not ask for any special institution, nor will it be asked that any men from its ranks be appointed. The claim is one made in the name of humanity. Dr. Boyd has corresponded with physicians in charge of a number of asylums in different parts of the country and save that he is prepared to prove his statement, that in mental diseases homeopathic remedies have proved most beneficial, because they study the effect of remedies on the mind more than the old school does; in their symptomology it is a thing of great importance. The officers of the institute think that when presented to the Legislature in the light that they propose to diseases homeopathic remedies have been more the Legislature in the light that they propose to present it, no opposition can be rightfully interposed, and their petition will be granted.

PREPARING FOR THEIR WORK.

The Indiana Republican Delegates to Chicago

to all the business of the delegation at Chicago. This committee will go there on the Thursday preceding the convention. All the delegates will assemble there on the Saturday following, and on the next Monday an organization will be formally made. The meeting yesterday was an informal one. Various plans and means of advancing General Harrison's interest were discussed. All matters of detail, however, were referred to the executive committee which met last night and organized. It elected Hon. A. G. Porter as chairman, and

J. D. Early, of Terre Haute, as secretary. Not Like John R. Gordon. It is thought by some of the workers of the party that the selection of Charles L. Jewett as chairman of the Democratic central committee gives much less satisfaction than that of his predecessor. "Mr. Jewett will do as a figure head, but for close, accurate, hard work he is not there," they say. The members of the committee seemed to recognize that, as they thought it necessary to back Mr. Jewett up by making Si Sheerin vice-chairman. "Jewett will make a good figure-head," said a gentleman, last night.
"He's a sort of a peacock, but Si Sheerin and Jim Rice will have to run the campaign, or else it won't be run worth much. Mr. Jewett came near being defeated in his own county last time, when he announced all around that he was going to have his usual majority, so that fact would not seem to indicate that he has any great political sagacity. You can set it down that Mr. Jewett will not make the leader and organizer that John R. Gordon would have done." Matson and his friends recognize that his death was a serious misfortune to their interest. Mr. Jewett may preside over conventions gracefully, but, as a man of real resources and real originality, the party will find before they get through that he is not the man for an emergency.

Charles L. Jewett Chairman, The Democratic State central committee met yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of electing a chairman to succeed Hon. John R. Gordon. deceased. Charles L. Jewett, of New Albany, was selected, with St Sheerin, of this place, as vice-chairman. No secretary on executive committee was selected, the secretaryship being left in the hands of the chairman. A committee was appointed consisting of ex-Chairman Richardson, P. H. McCormick and John A. Holman, to draft resolutions of respect and sympathy concerning the death of Mr. Gordon. Several of the candidates on the State ticket were present.

Can Be Relted Upon. Judge Thomas Kane, of Noblesville, delegate to the national Republican convention, was in the city yesterday. He believes that Senator Harrison's chances at Chicago are good. The Republicans of Hamilton county this year, he says, can be relied upon for a support to the party all along the line, such as they have not given before. Accused of Horse-Stealing.

Wednesday morning Charles E. Oakley hired a horse and buggy from John C. Burk, who keeps a livery stable on West Washington street, and stated that he wanted to drive fourteen miles into the country. As Mr. Burk had been hiring him conveyances for nearly a year he did not ask him where he was going. The horse and buggy were not returned Wednesday night, and the police were asked to look for Oakley. They could get no trace of him, but was established by Charles E. Peggs, of Greenwood, a member house.

of the Hancock Horse-thief Detective Association, who arrested him on the charge of horse-stealing. It seems that Wednesday Oakley traded Mr. Burk's horse and buggy twelve miles southeast of the city for another outfit, which he afterward offered to sell at Greenfield at such a low price that the detective arrested him.

Mr. Geo. C. Webster was married to Miss Helen Markel, and came to this city to live thirty-four years ago next September. Mr. Webster is a pioneer in the wholesale candy trade, and to-day is the silent partner in the firm of Dargett & Co., Mr. Webster's son-in-law and son. For many years Mr. and Mrs. Webster have been prominent members in the First Baptist Church, and a mamembers in the First Baptist Church, and a majority of the guests last night are members of that congregation. Mr. and Mrs. Webster were assisted by their daughters, Mrs. W. A. Mount, of Kansas City. Mrs. Dennis, of Detroit, Mrs. Daggett and Mrs. Deitz, of this city. The parlors were beautifully decorated with flowers, banked from the floor nearly to the ceiling, and the mantels were beds of roses. Each guest was given a remembrance of the occasion, a band of yellow satin ribbon with the name and 1838 and 1888 written in gold. The company numbered over 100, and a most delightful evening was spent. Mr. and Mrs. Webster were married when very young, and their years sit lightly upon them. Many and hearty were the congratulations showered upon them, and good wishes for a continuance of their happy married life.

Concert to Patients.

TALKING ABOUT BISHOPS

The African M. E. General Conference Votes to Add Four to the Roll.

Several Minority Reports on the Matter Were Submitted and Spiritedly Discussed-The Election Is to Occur To-Morrow.

During yesterday's session of the A. M. E. General Conference there were animated discussions on several subjects, principally on the election of bishops, there being a disagreement as to the number which should be chosen. Bishop Campbell presided at the opening proceedings, but Bishop Turner took the chair when the regular business was called up. The devotional exercises were conducted by J. R. Scott and H. Young.

When the question of the adoption of the minutes of the previous day's proceedings was before them the delegates had many flaws to pick. Rev. C. W. Nelson moved that the name of S. H. Jefferson be stricken from the committee on hymnal, and the name of some regularly elected delegate inserted in its stead. Rav. F. G. Stewart asked that the secretary make a record of the words "keep your mouth shut," used by W. D. Chappelle toward W. H. Hunter. The secretary stated that he had made no such record for the reason that it had occurred during the evening meeting, which was not a part of the regular session of the General Conference. The Chair maintained the secretary's action, which was followed by an appeal, which resulted in the overwhelming defeat of the appellant

The reports of the department of education were first taken up. Rev. J. G. Mitchell read one on the condition of Wilberforce University, showing it to be in a fairly prosperous condition.

The Legislature of Obio had lately made an appropriation for it of $10,000 for the establishment of an industrial department. The report concerning Allen University, Columbia, S. C., read by J. W. Morris, showed that it had an enread by J. W. Morris, showed that it had an enrollment of 200 students. The institution was slightly embarrassed in having a debt of $4,000.

Paul Quinn College, at Waco, Tex., was reported in a thriving condition. The enrollment in four years had been 372. The college had a fine industrial school. Morris Brown College, at Atlanta, Ga., a young institution, was reported to have made a fine start. It has raised $13,000, and has 200 students.

The report of the committee on rules for the government of the General Conference was also presented, but its consideration was postponed.
Then began the discussion on the election of bishops. Dr. Handy, chairman of the committee.

bishops. Dr. Handy, chairman of the committee, bishops. Dr. Handy, chairman of the committee, made the majority report, recommending the election of three bishops, or, in other words, keeping the number of bishops the same as at present. He also recommended that the salary of each bishop be fixed at $1,800.

No less than four minority reports were presented. One favored the election of five instead of three bishops; another that four be elected, and a third wanted no more bishops chosen. The fourth minority recommendation was as follows;

Resolved, That it is the sense of the General Conference that the best interests of the church will be subserved by the discontinuance of the office of presiding elder, and in lieu thereof that we elect one bishop for each annual conference, and that his salary be paid by said conference.

The question was raised as to whether there could be more than one minority report. Bishop Turner said he had some doubts upon the matter, but considered it advisable and expedient to recognize all of them. Out of the confusion the chairman at last got the conference down to voting on one of the reports, just before the adjournment hour for dinner. The vote was on the recommendation to elect no bishops whatever, and its was defeated by a vote of 161

At the afternoon session nothing was done except debate and vote on the question pending except debate and vote on the question pending at adjournment. At one time, when there was an unusual hubbub, a man in the rear of the house, who was evidently only a spectator, was heard to say. "Law, I guess preachers are no better than enny one else, just look at them fellers." About thirty delegates were on their feet at the time trying to attract the president's attention, and the latter was pounding the table with his gavel in a way that could be heard for a square. The better element in the conference, however, seems to be in the majority, and it is a certain class which causes most of the uproar and is responsible for the dessension.

a certain class which causes most of the uproar and is responsible for the dessension.

The first vote yesterday afternoon was on the question of electing three bishops, according to the recommendation of the majority report. The recommendation was voted down, and then the lists of delegates called, and those desiring four bishops voted "four," and those desiring five voted "five." Those favoring four carried the day by a decided majority, the result being greated with applause, although the defeated delegates received the result in bad grace. The vote had been preceded and was interruped by numerous discussions and occupied the entire afternoon. An election of these bishops will begin on Saturday at 10 A. M. The number of possible caudidates is quite large, there being at least twenty.

at least twenty. Last night there was a good audience at Bethel Church to hear addresses from various visiting ministers on the subject of child bap-tism. On Saturday night a literary and musical entertainment will be given at the church.

An Attractive Programme. A musical and literary entertainment, presented by some of the best talent in the city.

will be given to-night at the Central Christian Church, corner of Ohio and Delaware streets. The following programme will be rendered:

The entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock. A Safe Blown Open. Nearly the whole population of West Indianapolis was aroused yesterday morning, at 3 o'clock, by an explosion caused by safe-blowers working on a safe in the bar-room of the Denis Hotel, on Hadley avenue, kept by John Landers. Sergeant Sauers and Patrolmen Clarey and Corrigan were within a square of the hotel watching for a murderer, who was expected to come on a freight train, when the ex-plosion occurred, but by the time they reached the building the men had escaped. As soon as the thieves secured the contents of the safe they locked the door of the hotel and jumped into a buggy and got out of sight. They secured about $60 in money and $30 worth of car-checks. The explosion almost demolished the safe, and did considerable damage to the house. Strangled by False Teeth. Mrs. W. D. Ligon, a patient at the Surgical Institute, from Whitesboro, Tex., under treatment for the morphine habit, died yesterday morning from strangulation, caused by swallowing her false teeth. She was under the care of a trained nurse, but she concelled the fact that both her upper and lower teeth were false, and at night they still remained in her mouth when they should have been taken out. She passed a comfortable night Wednesday, and yesterday morning at 6 o'clock, called to her nurse. She was found in paroxysms and Drs. Allen and Wilson were summoned. They found the teeth lodged in her throat, but were unable to remove them before death came. Mrs. Ligon was forty-five years of age. Her remains will be sent to her relatives in Texas.
